The Golden Rule Dry Goods Company

Pecos Valley Hay Jumping.
 Artesia, N. M., May 8.—George Williams, of the Alford farm, southeast of town who sold the first car of hay this year at the highest introductory price known in this valley, broke the record again the next day by selling two cars more to the same agent for $13.60 per ton. The first car went out at $12.50, f. o. b. Artesia. This is not what is rated as first class hay, but is listed as "No. 1," which is the second grade. E. B. Hollock, who purchased the hay, is of the opinion that market values will be good all of this year, due to a shortage of crop in other places. While a late spring has held back the Pecos valley crop several weeks there will be no shortage here, as such a thing as crop failure on the irrigated farm is impossible.

WANTED—Clean cotton rags at the Journal office.

NEWS NOTES from BY DAISY DEAN

MOVIELAND

Bryant Washburn, who at 21 is one of the bright stars of the silent drama, came within one of being a curate. His uncle, Rev. Dwight L. Moody, and other members of his family urged him strongly to enter the ministry. But he swerved from the theological career because he believed himself better fitted for the stage than the pulpit and because he thought there was just as much chance for a man to be of use to the world in the theatrical profession.

"There isn't so much difference between the intent of the pulpit and the present day motion picture screen," says Mr. Washburn. "In one the teaching is direct by word of mouth; in the other it is by showing the outcome of a life of evil by a particular example. I believe that the impression left on the mind by a photoplay is far stronger and more lasting than that left by a sermon. And pictures are every day becoming a greater force for good."

FAY TINCER TO STAR IN "THE DOPE FIEND."
 "The Dope Fiend" is the title of the first Fine Arts feature in which Fay Tincer, the well known comedienne, is to star. In this picture Miss Tincer appears in the part of an artist's model who is a victim of drugs. It is a decidedly new characterization for this actress, but not wholly different from her former work, in that there are a number of comedy situations. Tully Marshall appears as the artist.

Miss Tincer has just been notified that she has won second place in a popularity contest by an Australian moving picture magazine. The first place was won by Mary Pickford. In view of the fact that Miss Tincer has been in pictures less than two years, this must be considered as a distinct honor.

SEES CHAPLIN AT WORK FROM A LOFTY PERCH.
 One of Los Angeles' most dignified citizens, a man whose monthly income is represented in four figures, was recently observed perched on top of a high board fence overlooking the yard surrounding the Mutual-Chaplin studios.

He admitted that in compliance with a rule established by Studio

Manager Caulfield, he had been barred from the studio during working hours, but was so anxious to see Chaplin that he had climbed to the top of the fence. He had been there nearly two hours when he was spotted.

The new Clara Kimball Young film formation will make a specialty of adapting pictures from novels. Among the authors represented will be R. W. Chambers, David Graham Phillips, Rex Beach, Gouverneur Morris, Hall Caine, Maurice Maeterlinck and Edgar Allan Poe.

Lucille Taft, movie beauty, has a nice, round, white and fluffy little dog with a cold nose, presented to her by J. E. T. Bowden, mayor of Jacksonville, Fla.

Notes of Interest From State Museum

Santa Fe, May 8.—Mary Collins Skinner (Mrs. Winslow Skinner) an artist of note who has made her home in Paris and Italy the past few years, after arriving yesterday from Buffalo, N. Y., registered at the Hotel El Comodoro, and promises to stay for the summer to paint the quaint corners of this section and at Taos. Mrs. Skinner promises the museum an exhibit of architectural paintings, including well as of the California mission churches. A painting of the church at Assisi, Italy, made famous by St. Francis, she has just sold, much to the regret of Santa Feans who would like to have seen it for St. Francis is the patron saint of the capital.

Royal H. Milleson, the Chicago artist who exhibited in the museum last summer a number of lovely landscapes of the upper Pecos and Galinas, today sent to the museum a souvenir in the form of a booklet on the Art Institute at Chicago.

The museum is in receipt of copies of the new maps of the national monuments, parks, Indian reservations, reclamation projects and other data that make the map a most interesting and instructive one. It is issued by the department of the interior.

The following registered at the museum: L. E. McQuillan, Colorado Springs; A. McMahon, Chicago; Hugh J. Dutler, Helen V. Kimball, C. B. Mathews, Albuquerque; Mrs. S. C. Jarrell, New Boston, Tex.; B. CANDIDATES ROOM ARTESIA STREETS HUNTING VOTES

Heated Campaign for Democratic Nominations in Pecos Valley Comes to Close With All on Anxious Bench.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
 Artesia, N. M., May 8.—Saturday and Sunday the politicians of this county seemed to be centered in Artesia. All kinds of candidates wandered loose on the streets, absolutely unmolested, except for each other, and while the best Methodist sale was in progress Saturday, they seemed to be gathered as a unit at the old livery stable a block north of the post-office, where various articles were being auctioned off for the benefit of the local church.

In the afternoon Charles Gilbert had a dray hauled up on the shady side of the Auto Service building, and proceeded to address the voters on his candidacy for the office of district attorney. There was a good crowd present for it had been noised around that Charley would let off a few fireworks in reply to some statements made by K. K. Scott on the occasion of his last visit to Artesia. But Mr. Gilbert was miserably disappointing, as the first shot out of the box he declared that he had not time to waste with men who had defamed his character. A little later on, however, he managed to convey the impression that his opinion of Scott was in no way the kind that one attorney should have for a brother in the law, but as for McGill and Dow, he passed them up with the kindest of expressions of good will. He was, however, confident that he was better equipped to serve the people than either of them.

Reply by Dow.
 At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Gilbert invited Mr. Dow to crawl up on the wagon and make a few brief remarks, which he did. One thing that Mr. Dow and Mr. Gilbert agreed on is that the race will be between the two of them—that neither McGill nor Scott has any show in the world. Mr. Dow, however, violently disagreed with Mr. Gilbert regarding the fitness of the two leading candidates. After he had surrendered the dray Mr. Gilbert again spoke. While both men made interesting speeches it was plain that the common people there assembled were not a little put out at the lack of real campaign fire.

Judge McGill had addressed the people Friday night, speaking in the open air to a good crowd. He has been working Eddy county very thoroughly and there is no doubt but that his close race for attorney general at the first state election is having some effect on the democrats of this neighborhood.

SUBSCRIPTION TAKEN FOR BRIDAL COUPLE BY ARTESIA PEOPLE

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
 Artesia, N. M., May 8.—Following an appeal for aid in one of the local newspapers last week, citizens of Artesia made up about twenty dollars in cash and substantial presents of meat, goods and other necessities for Felix Vasquez, who a few days ago was married to Flora Martinez, the girl wounded by Jesus Angular in a jealous rage a few weeks ago. Ever since the shooting Felix has stayed close to the side of the girl, and cared for her day and night. This, of course, kept him from his work, and by this time the money he had saved is gone, and his young wife needs many things to aid her in securing a complete recovery from the wound that for many weeks threatened her life. For this reason Felix did something he had never done before—he asked his friends for assistance, and the town responded at once and let it be understood that if he needed more aid it would be forthcoming. The people here appreciate the fight Felix has been making to save the life of his wife and are determined that the newly married couple shall not want for anything while Felix is kept from his work.
